Summary

I am an optimistic and creative full-stack developer and an undergraduate at Sabaragamuwa University of Sri Lanka, with strong hands-on experience in full-stack web development using the MERN stack and modern JavaScript technologies. I am skilled at understanding key requirements, learning new technologies quickly, and designing clean, user-friendly solutions. I am actively seeking an opportunity as a Software Engineering Intern to apply my skills in a professional environment, contribute to real-world projects, and grow as a software engineer.
